Mr. Judkins, the station agent at Chazy Junction, came out of his little house at daybreak, shivered a bit in the chill morning air and gave an involuntary start as he saw a private car on the sidetrack. There were two private cars, to be exact a sleeper and a baggage car and Mr. Judkins knew the three o'clock train must have left them as it passed through. Ah, said he aloud; the nabobs hev arrove. Who are the nabobs asked a quiet voice beside him. Again Mr. Judkins started; he even stepped back a pace to get a better view of the stranger, who had approached so stealthily through the dim light that the agent was unaware of his existence until he spoke. Who be you he demanded, eyeing the man suspiciously. Never mind who I am, retorted the other in a grumpy tone; the original question is who are the nabobs See here, young feller; this aint no place fer tramps, observed Mr. Judkins, frowning with evident displeasure; Chazy Junctions got all it kin do to support its...
