Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Introductions These paintings are specially made for a Christmas edition in the Michael Andrew Law's Pale Hair Girls series, these are one of the few comic-fine art crossover works by Michael Andrew Law. Law chosen half innocent, half erotic manga or comic's young female figures interacted with famous cities and landmarks which symbolizes the color and the materials heavy of contemporary Christmas holidays. Pale hair girls are the most ambitious project to date by Michael Andrew Law, which begins with 60 oil paintings for the acclaimed 'egoism one man show', which later spawned into a 900 plus more digital-classical crossover paintings, most of the earliest in this series are done solely in oil and sometimes with acrylic based underpainting, while later works use more variety of materials such as glitter, gold leaf, die cuts, sometimes museum quality achieve prints to interact with the oil and acrylic paint. At the time when Law started working on these paintings, he was just fresh out of his art school practice of classical oil painting in the mid 2000s in Hong Kong that's when he still using some of the academic classical painting method which he extensively trained during his art school years. That explains why these earliest work in the Pale Hair Girls series were and mostly use live model sitters in studio, which later on as the series expands, the later works are mostly painted based on photographs. In the series, Law also took some of the portraits painted works from his school years, and turned them into the same visual interpretation and style with the series, a gesture, in his words, to erase the identities of...
