He is the principal factor in a small and somewhat indefinite organization called the National Association of Wool Manufacturers. When the political campaign began which resulted in the election of President McKinley, a committee, of which Mr. Whitman was not a member, was appointed to raise funds in Boston in aid of that result. Mr. Whitman went to Canton, and after an interview with Mr. McKinley, interested himself in securing Republican contributions in New England. After the Republicans were securely in control of the Government and the new tariff bill had gone into the Senate Finance Committee, the secretary of Mr. Whitmans so-called National Association of Wool Manufacturers, was given a place in the executive sessions of the Senate Finance Committee as a clerk, but was paid for his services by Mr. Whitman and his associates, and not by the United States Government. Here are some samples of the correspondence and telegrams which passed between Mr. Whitman and Secretary North, of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, at that period: Elsmere, April 4, 1897. Dear Mr. Whitman: Now, about the tariff. I can not, after what has been said to me in reference to my confidential relations with the committee, keep you posted as I would like to do. But if I find that it is desirable that you should come on here I will telegraph you that the situation requires attention, and you will doubtless have no trouble in finding out what is the matter....
